Dear Mr. Fraley:

Enclosed is your long awaited report on the Keiper line. As you can see, I had to exceed your retainer to complete the project. But it made sense to finish off the line rather than to arbitrarily stop at 1700 and then try to pick up the pieces later.

Sincerely,

Research Report - Fraley

13 May 1999

Leopold Keiper family:

My first search involved checking the Germans to America index for the years 1860 - 1865 for evidence of the Keiper family's arrival in NYC. I did not find an entry for them under that name or close variations, e.g. Keiper, Kuiper, Kieper, etc. They may well be in said volumes but it is in a form so garbled that you would have to know what ship they sailed on in order to find them.

As I mentioned in my letter of 29 January, your correspondents theory that Kalgore was Kalkofen proved to be correct. But the key to the case was the reference to Feifelbach (sic) and Reifenbach (sic) in the obituary. They struck me as probable garbles of Reiffelbach, a village lying almost due north of Kaiserlautern not far from Meisenheim (see maps, Doc 13, for the place names mentioned in this report).

Fortunately, The FHL has microfilmed copies of the Reiffelbach civil registries. A check of these yielded the first find, i.e. the birth record of what proved to be the third child of Leopold and Keiper and Anna Maria Winneker (dated 12 Mar 1842, not copied). This discovery led me to check the Reiffelbach civil marriage register. Said search proved productive in that it yielded the marriage entry of Leopold Keiper and his first wife, Anna Maria Winiker (Doc. 1). Among other things, it proved that Leopold was from Kalkofen, as your correspondent in Germany had suspected. Also mentioned is the birth of their first child, Phillipp, born in Rothselberg the previous year. Deferring commentary on the rest of the marriage document, I read through the Reiffelbach birth registers looking for additional children of Leopold.

As matters turn out, he had five known children by his first wife, and six by his second wife, Charlotte Leibert. The fourth child of this marriage was Charlotte, born 11 Aug 1858, who later married Conrad D. Fraley in Pennsylvania.

Very unfortunately, I could not find the marriage entry for Leopold Keiper and Charlotte Leibert, nor the death entry for Anna Maria nee Winiker. The Reiffelbach marriage and death registers are missing for the years 1850 and 1851.

Obviously, several of these children died before the family emigrated. I did not check the death records in that regard.

Johannes Keiper family:

Our knowledge of this family is derived almost entirely from the documents which the Civil Registry Office in Alsenz sent you. The first of these is Leopold's birth entry dated 25 Jan 1816 (Doc. 2). Actually, the child was born the previous day, as you can see from the translation. His name actually appears as Leobold on the document. In the days before the typewriter, "b" and "p" were often interchanged, as are "c" and "k".

Rather more important for extending the line was the marriage entry for Johannes Keiper and Catharina (actually Chatarina in this entry) Eilmes (Doc. 3). You will note that she was a widow of Urban Stark, which explains the statement in Leopold's obituary.

As you can see, this document contains a wealth of genealogical data, and was crucial to extending the family line. No doubt Leopold had other siblings, or half-siblings. But since the pertinent records are not available in SLC, field research in Germany will be necessary to find their names.

Heinrich Adam Keiper family:

In the marriage entry of 1815, Johannes is stated to be the son of Heinrich Adam Keiper, born 10 Jul 1768 in Schiersfeld. Very fortunately, the FHL has the microfilm copies of the Reformed Church in Schiersfeld. Hence, it was not difficult to find his birth/baptismal entry. As matters turned out, he was the second of seven known children of Heinrich Adam Keipper, Master Tailor, and his wife Anna Eva Enders (Doc. 4). The names and birth dates of his siblings are listed on the enclosed family group sheet.

Heinrich Adam Keipper and Anna Eva Enders were married in Schiersfeld on 25 April 1762. He was stated to be the son of the late Heinrich Keipper of here, while she was the daughter of Conrad Enders of the nearby hamlet of Sitters (Doc. 5).

Johann Heinrich Keiper family:

Reconstructing this family proved to be a little more difficult than that of Heinrich Adam. The primary reason for this was that there were two individuals named Heinrich Keiper residing in Schiersfeld circa 1700-1750. One of them married a woman named Anna Catharina, while the other married an Elisabetha Catharina.

The key document proved to be the birth/baptismal entry of Heinrich Adam, dated 1/2 Sep 1739 (Doc.6). His father is stated to be Heinrich Cuiper (sic), senior Kirchcensor (church warden), while his mother was Anna Catharina, no surname listed.

Heinrich Adam was the sixth of eight known children of Johann Heinrich Kuipper and Anna Catharina. I was not able to find a marriage entry for them. Evidently, she came from a nearby parish. The upshot is that I do not have her maiden name.

The key to extending the line appeared in Heinrich's death entry, dated 24 Feb 1748. He was stated to be the former Censor here, and was 52 years and 5 months old, making a birth year of 1695 (Doc. 7). His wife Anna Catharina outlived him by 21 years, dying 18 Jun 1769 at the age of 63 (Doc. 8).

Johann Nicolaus Kuipper family:

Since we had a birth year for Heinrich the church warden, i.e. 1695, the next step was to check the baptismal register for that year. To my delight, I found it, dated 11 Nov 1695 (Doc. 9). Johannes Henricus was stated to be the son of Nicolas Kuipper, Schultheiss in Schiersfeld, and his wife Maria Catharina. Schultheiss is sometimes translated as mayor, but I am uncomfortable with that term. The term Burgermeister, literally master citizen, readily translates as mayor, since he was elected by the citizens of a given place. But the Schultheiss was not elected. He was appointed by the local ruler to oversee the village, e.g. collect taxes, etc.

Indeed, in Nicolas Keipper's death entry dated 18 March 1708, he is stated to be the Zweibrueckischer Schultheiss, referring to the fact that the Duke of Zweibruecken was the ruler of the area at that time (Doc. 10).

Reconstructing this family proved to be challenging because the pre-1695 registers are so incomplete. I was able to find the marriage entry of Niklaus (sic) Keiper and Maria Catharina dated 9 Oct 1677 (Doc. 11). Very unfortunately, it does not list her maiden surname. It does state she was from Abtweiler, a hamlet near Odernheim.

Given the gaps in the registers, the best one can assert is that Johann Nicolaus Kuipper and Maria Catharina had five known children, of whom Johann Heinrich was the youngest. All the data we have for the fourth child is that he was baptized in 1692, suggesting that it was an entry written in later.

Hans Heinrich Keiper family:

Extending the line beyond Johann Nicolaus was problematical and somewhat conjectural. Yet the preponderance of evidence strongly suggests that my scenario is correct, at least in my view.

On 4 Jan 1682, died Hans Heinrich Keiper, censor ad PfalzZweibr. Schultheiss, age 68 years. His wife Christina died 18 Apr 1675 at the age of 58 (not copied).

On 26 Nov 1686, Hans Conrad Keiper, stated to be the son of the late Hans Heinrich, married Barbara Leister (not copied). Johann Nicolas Keiper, and his wife Maria Catharina, repeatedly serve as godparents for the children of Hans Conrad. Indeed, Johann Nicholas Keiper, Schultheiss, served as the godfather of Hans Conrad's child Johann Nicholas circa 1699.

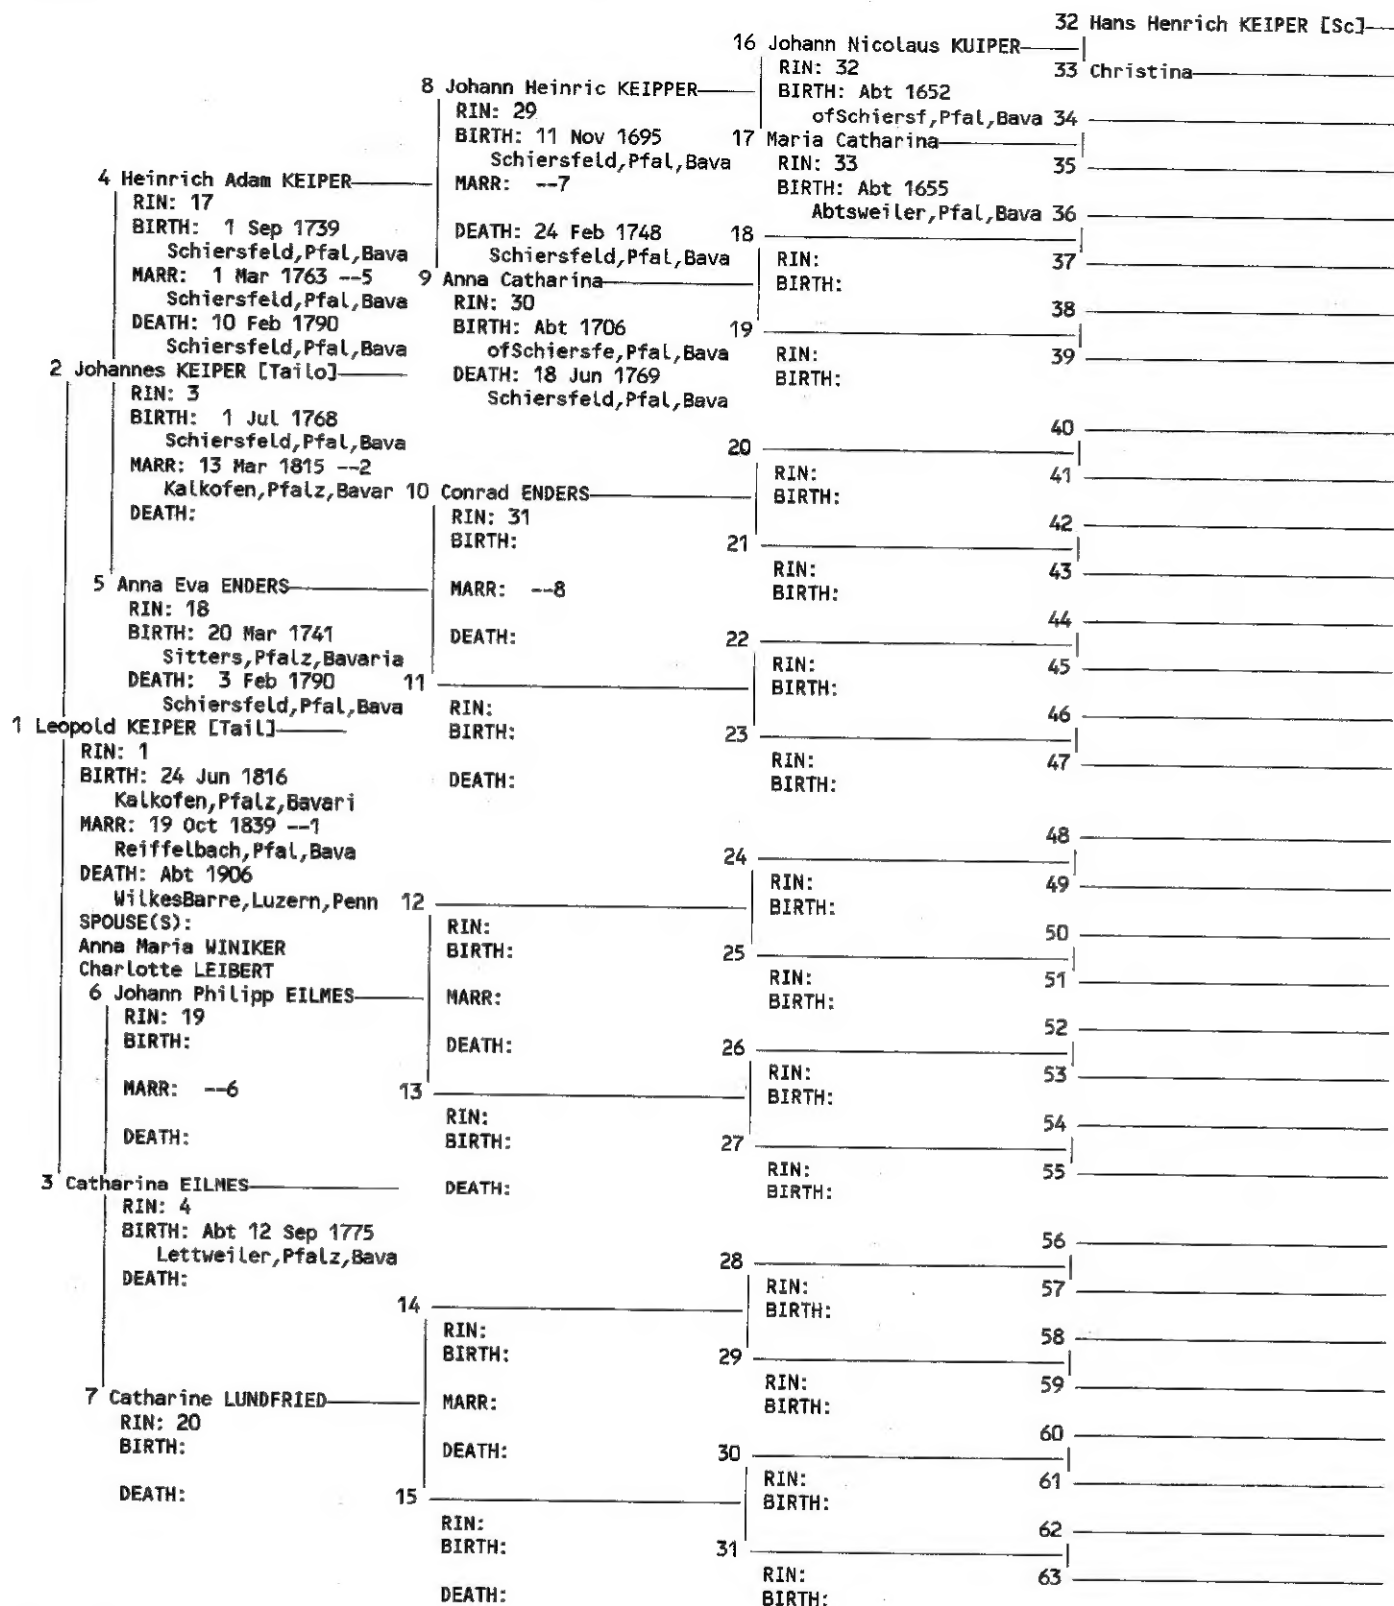

Actually, the earliest Keiper entry I found in the Schiersfeld registers was the death entry of 20 year old Lorentz, dated 13 Sep 1666. Given the fact that power tended to run in families, plus the evidence from the baptismal and marriage records, I am personally convinced that Johann Nicholas Kuipper, Schultheiss, is indeed the son of Hans Heinrich Keiper, churchwarden and Schultheiss.

That concludes what I feel I can reasonably prove at this point. There is a publication by one Karl Schaaff which lists Keipper families living in Schiersfeld circa 1570 based on church visitations. No doubt they are related, but I am not sure just how. In any event, it was time to wrap up this project.

Froehlich lines:

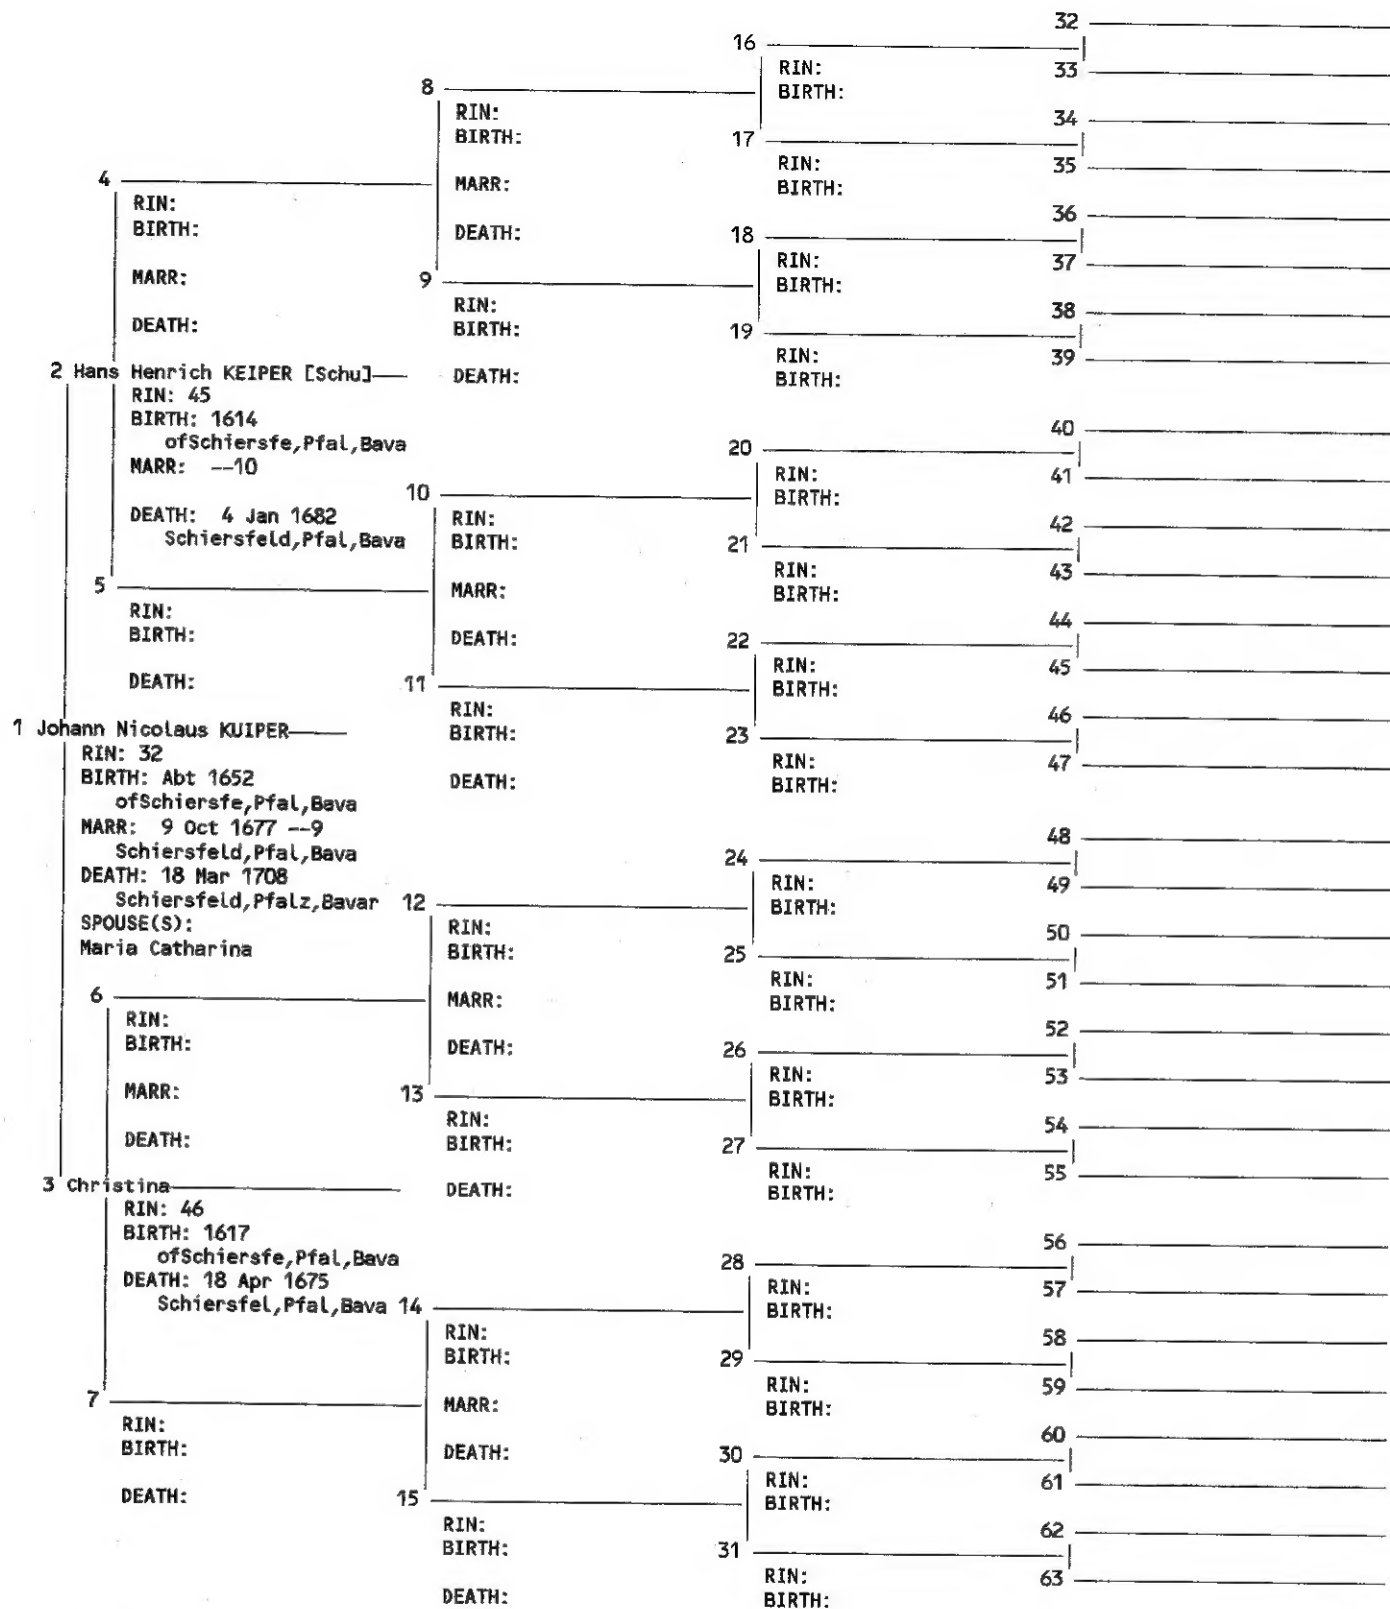

Given the amount of time I spent on the Keiper line, I made no attempt to pursue the leads you furnished on the Froehlich line.

They are asking us permission for this marriage. Banns were announced in front of the community house the first time Sunday the 8th of September 1839, at noon, a second time Sunday the 15th of September 1839, at noon, according to the law. The officials of the civil registration office in Odernheim and Jettenbach also announced the intended marriage according to the law.

Since no real objection to this marriage was made, we granted permission and after we read all the above mentioned certificates, also capital 6 about marriage in the civil law book, we asked the bride and groom if they were willing to enter into matrimony. Since they both answered yes we declared Leopold Keiper and Anna Maria Winiker husband and wife.
